

I feel that satellite radio is the future of radio and should be able to include traffic and weather in their offerings.